

THE HOST'S BLUEPRINT

B-NO.6

MOON & MAGNOLIA

HI!

Welcome to Botanical No. 6. I am so excited you're here.

If you're anything like me, you love the idea of having your favorite people over for a beautiful evening, but you absolutely hate the frantic, sweaty panic that usually happens right before the doorbell rings. There is nothing worse than hiding away in the kitchen, completely missing your own party because you're stressing over a timer or stuck playing bartender all night.

That is exactly why I built this blueprint.

Botanical No. 6 isn't about being rigid or perfect. It's about slowing everything down and being present with the people you love. We are skipping the stuffy rules for a vibe that feels breezy, warm, and relaxed. Think raw textures, a great playlist, fresh botanical aromas, and a self-guided spritz bar that lets your guests mix their own drinks so you don't have to.

This guide is your step-by-step roadmap to making it happen without the stress. Inside, I've laid out a foolproof countdown timeline to eliminate day-of guesswork, a simple guide to building a gorgeous living tablescape, and a few easy ideas for parting gifts. Everything else you need—like your interactive shopping lists, full recipes, and dietary swap guides—is waiting for you on our private Framer portal.

Take a breath, trust the timeline, and pour yourself a drink before your first guest arrives. Your only job is to be present and enjoy the beautiful space you're about to create.

I can't wait to see how your evening comes together!

Cheers,

Founder of Moon & Magnolia Events

THE SENSORY MATRIX

- Vision: Alabaster Whites, Ivory Creams, Raw Terracotta, Deep Botanical Greens.
- Tactile: Heavy linens, raw ceramics, frosted glass, thick cardstock.
- Aroma: White tea, crushed spearmint, cold-pressed citrus.
- Sound: Acoustic bossa nova or seasonal lo-fi instrumental covers.

I. WARDROBE & VISUAL CURATION

SUGGESTED HOST ATTIRE

Simple, classic profiles in neutral tones—think structured cream knits, white linen button-downs, or tailored trousers that capture an effortless-luxury feel. The goal is to feel polished yet completely at ease, matching the organic texture of the space.

GUEST STYLE COMPOSITION (THE TEXTURAL ATTENDANT)

To ensure the room's visual landscape remains harmonious and beautiful, invite your guests to lean into a breezy daytime aesthetic. Provide these style anchors directly within your Canva invitation text box:

- The Palette: Monochromatic neutrals, warm ivory, soft oatmeal, sun-bleached beige, toasted terracottas, and olive tones.
- The Fabrics: Breathable, high-texture natural materials. Suggest crisp linen wrap dresses, lightweight raw-silk shirts, unblended cotton separates, and open-weave summer knits.
- The Silhouette: Relaxed, unrestrictive tailoring. Avoid aggressive branding, neon accents, or harsh synthetic fabrics that interrupt the soft, natural ambient lighting.

II. THE TIMELINE

48 HOURS BEFORE

- Source living culinary herbs from a local greenhouse or grocery store (think Sweet Basil, Mint, Rosemary, or Lavender).
- Clean out any terracotta pots or ceramic vessels you have on hand.

24 HOURS BEFORE

- Prepare the Botanical Ice: Freeze large ice cubes with a fresh mint leaf suspended in the center of each.
- Cold-brew your Jasmine Green and Hibiscus Rose tea bases.
- Order or organize your parting gifts for the exit station.

3 HOURS BEFORE

- Dress your main dining table or serving surface with a clean white linen or cotton tablecloth draped to the floor.
- Assemble the living centerpiece: Arrange your potted herbs down the center of the table and tuck white garden roses right into the soil.
- Set the places using your favorite light-colored ceramic dinner plates, tucking a folded white napkin between or alongside them.
- Lay out a simple line of white taper candles between the herb pots.
- Chill your Champagne or sparkling wine, Gin, and Elderflower liqueur.

1 HOUR BEFORE

- Light a refreshing white tea or mint candle to welcome guests as they arrive.
- Set up the Spritz Bureau: Utilize any side table, credenza, or counter space you already have. Arrange your favorite stemware or wine glasses, the carafes of cold-brewed tea, and a small dish of fresh berries.
- Turn on the acoustic bossa nova or seasonal lo-fi playlist.
- Brief your kitchen or catering help on any guest dietary adjustments (GF/Vegan).

15 MINUTES BEFORE

- Light the taper candles down the center of the table.
- Place your botanical ice cubes into a serving bowl with ice tongs.
- Arrange your parting gifts by the door so they are easy to grab on the way out.
- Pour yourself a drink, take a breath, and welcome your guests!

IV. THE PARTING GIFT ASSEMBLY GUIDE

Do not leave your exit station bare. Use these exact assembly blueprints to transform basic glass and textile containers into luxurious, thoughtful takeaways that guests can incorporate into their daily routines at home.

- OPTION A: THE HERBAL APOTHECARY VIAL

- The Vessel: Clear 3-oz glass apothecary vials with premium natural cork stoppers.
- The Filler: Loose-leaf Jasmine Green or Hibiscus Rose tea leaves blended with dehydrated rose petals or mint flakes. Fill each vial, leaving a 1/4-inch pocket of air at the top.
- The Styling: Wrap unbleached jute twine around the neck of the glass vial three times, then knot it securely. Using a tiny dab of clear adhesive, mount your custom, square Canva-printed "Botanical No. 6 Blend" label onto the front face of the glass.

- OPTION B: THE BOTANICAL BREWING LOOM

- The Vessel: Small, unbleached drawstring pouches woven from organic flax, linen, or heavy cotton canvas.
- The Filler: One mini, high-polished gold mesh tea infuser ball pre-stuffed with your custom loose-leaf tea blend.
- The Styling: Place the gold infuser neatly inside the pouch. Pull the drawstrings tight. Tie a clean sprig of dried lavender or fresh rosemary directly into the drawstring bow, allowing the botanical scent to transfer beautifully to the fabric.

III. THE TABLESCAPE MASTER ARCHITECTURE (SETUP GUIDE)

- Layer 1: The Linear Base
 - Lay down your ironed white linen or canvas tablecloth. Run an oatmeal-colored or raw-edge flax runner precisely down the exact center axis of the table to ground the landscape and add raw, asymmetrical textile weight.
- Layer 2: The Living Botanical Spine
 - Place your raw terracotta or light ceramic pots of living herbs (basil, rosemary, mint) down the runner. Stagger them in an intentional zigzag line rather than a stiff, straight row. Snipped white garden roses should be placed delicately into the topsoil of each pot.
- Layer 3: The Micro-Florals
 - In the negative spaces between the herb planters, place your clear glass bud vases. Keep these displays airy—drop only a single stem of fresh dill blossom or a single delicate botanical leaf into each vase. Aim for natural, varying heights to guide the eye smoothly down the table.
- Layer 4: The Lighting Matrix
 - Weave your brass or iron taper candlestick holders into the remaining gaps. Place tapers in odd-numbered clusters (groups of threes or single standalones) rather than symmetrical pairs. Ensure no candle flame sits directly beneath a low-hanging leaf or flower stem.
- Layer 5: The Place Setting & Print Assets
 - Anchor each seat with an organic-edged, light ceramic dinner plate. Place your folded white cotton napkin alongside it. Center your custom printed B-NO. 6 menu squarely atop each ceramic plate, tying the typography and visual identity of the feast together seamlessly.

VI. FINAL HARDWARE CHECKLIST

Before your guests arrive, complete this final scan to verify your setup is fully anchored and ready:

- ☐ Your dining table is completely dressed in a white linen or canvas base.
- ☐ An oatmeal or natural raw-edge flax runner is aligned down the center axis of the table.
- ☐ A dedicated side table, bar cart, or open counter space is staged for the Spritz Bureau.
- ☐ Light-colored ceramic dinner plates are set with matching white cloth napkins at each seat.
- ☐ Custom B-NO.6 menus are printed via Canva and centered on each plate.
- ☐ Terracotta pots or ceramic planters are clean, stocked with live herbs, and studded with white roses.
- ☐ White taper candles are secured safely within their brass or iron holders.
- ☐ Transparent glass carafes are filled with your cold-brewed tea bases and staged at the bar station.
- ☐ Premium stemware, coupes, or highballs are wiped clean and stacked neatly at the bureau.
- ☐ A dedicated muddler or small spoon is placed next to the fresh garnish berry dish.
- ☐ Parting gifts (apothecary vials or drawstring bags) are complete and arranged neatly by the exit doorway.
